

PRIVACY POLICY

Protection of Privacy Policy

At Fazo Liquidity Corp ("Fazo Liquidity Corp", "Company", "we", "our", "us"), safeguarding the privacy of our users—current customers, former customers, and website visitors—is a top priority. We are committed to protecting all personal information collected from our valued clients. This statement outlines how we collect, maintain, and protect your ("you", "your") information.

Direct Collection of Information

By providing your personal information, such as your full name, mailing address, ID number, passport number, etc., you consent to the Company gathering, storing, and protecting this information. We collect personal information from clients under the following circumstances:

- When opening a live/demo trading account with the Company (via electronic or printed registration forms).
- When funding your trading account.
- When withdrawing from your trading account.

The information collected may include:

- Personal Information: Full name, address, date of birth, ID number, and occupation.
- Financial Information: Assets, investment experience, and monthly income, to evaluate your trading experience.
- Trading Information: Data from your activities on the Company's system.
- Contact Information: When you contact the Company or respond to a promotion.
- Verification Documents: Copies of ID documents, utility bills, and bank statements when funding or withdrawing from your account.

This information helps the Company understand your financial needs, provide suitable products and services, process account transactions promptly, and deliver high-quality customer support.

Indirect Collection of Information

The Company also collects certain information indirectly, such as your IP address, operating system, software configuration, and the use of cookies.

Usage of Collected Information

The Company uses the information collected from clients for the following purposes:

- To verify client identity.
- To set up, maintain, and manage client trading accounts.
- To process deposits and withdrawals.
- To keep clients informed with news, updates, and new promotions.
- To analyze client activity for service improvement.
- To provide top-quality customer support.
- To enhance your overall experience and better understand your needs.

Disclosure to Affiliates and Third Parties

The Company does not share client information with any affiliated or non-affiliated third parties except under the following circumstances:

- To open, operate, and service your trading account.
- With service providers such as attorneys, accountants, auditors, and other financial professionals.
- To protect against fraud, money laundering, unauthorized transactions, claims, or other liabilities.
- For the calculation of compensation for affiliates and introducing brokers.

Income, credit history, net worth, or income information will not be shared under any circumstances.

Security of Client Information

Ensuring the security of client information is a top priority for the Company. We take the following measures to protect your data:

- Utilizing advanced data security technology, firewalls, and encryption.
- Providing each client with a personal login and password for system access.
- Disposing of or purging personal, financial, and account information based on our data retention policy, in compliance with recognized international standards.
- Restricting access to client information to a small group of management and employees who need it.
- Requiring employees to maintain and protect the confidentiality of your information and follow established procedures.

- Limiting access to personal, financial, and account information to employees and affiliates who need it for business purposes.
- Ensuring employees can reset passwords without accessing them, as passwords are not saved in our systems.
- Employing adequate security measures, based on international standards, to safeguard your information from disclosure, compromise, or leakage.

External Links

The Company's website may contain links to external sites. We are not responsible for the content on these external websites and advise clients to read the privacy policy of any external site before providing personal information. The Company's Privacy Policy applies only to information collected by the Company.

Changes to This Privacy Statement

Any material changes to this Privacy Policy will be posted on our website as soon as reasonably practical. By continuing to use our website and/or maintaining a Trading Account with us, you agree to accept these changes as notice provided to you.

Disputes

Any disputes over this statement are subject to the terms of this statement and our Terms and Conditions.

If you have any questions, concerns, or complaints regarding this Privacy Policy, please do not hesitate to contact us.
